

IEEE COPYRIGHT LICENSE FORM
FOR USE WITH IEEE COMPUTER SOCIETY'S EXPERIMENTAL "DELAYED-OPEN ACCESS" MODEL

TITLE OF WORK (hereinafter, "the Work"):

AUTHOR(S):

IEEE PUBLICATION TITLE: 2017 IEEE 42nd Conference on Local Computer Networks (LCN)

The undersigned hereby grants to The Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers, Incorporated ("IEEE") an exclusive, worldwide, royalty free license to reproduce, distribute, sell, make derivative works of, and use the Work, for a period of twelve (12) months from the date of the execution of this agreement and inclusion of the paper in the IEEE Xplore Digital Library. Upon the conclusion of this exclusivity period, IEEE shall retain all rights previously granted on a non-exclusive basis in perpetuity. IEEE shall also make the Work available at no cost through IEEE's digital library upon the conclusion of the exclusivity period.

The author(s) represents and warrants that the Work is original and that he/she/they is/are the author(s) of the Work. To the extent required, the Author(s) represent and warrant that they have obtained all necessary permissions from any third party intellectual property owners. The author(s) further represent that they have the power and authority to make and execute this agreement.

IEEE recognizes the author(s) as retaining ownership of the Work including:

1. Author(s), or their employers, retaining all proprietary rights in any process, procedure, or article of manufacture described in the Work.
2. In the case of work performed under a U.S. Government contract or grant, IEEE recognizes that the U.S. Government has royalty-free permission to reproduce all or portions of the Work, and to authorize others to do so, for official U.S. Government purposes only, if the contract/grant so requires.

The author(s) hereby grants IEEE the unlimited, worldwide, irrevocable right to use his/her name, picture, likeness, voice and biographical information as part of the advertisement, distribution and sale of products incorporating the Work, and releases IEEE from any claim based on right of privacy or publicity.

The author(s) agree to indemnify and hold harmless the IEEE from any damage or expense that may arise in the event of a breach of any of the warranties set forth above.

In the event the above Work is not accepted and published by the IEEE or is withdrawn by the author(s) before acceptance by the IEEE, this agreement becomes null and void.

JOINT AUTHORSHIP

For jointly authored works, all the joint authors should sign, or one of the authors should sign as an authorized agent for the others. In the case of multiple authorship where one or more authors are U.S. Government employees but at least one author is not, that non-Government author should sign this form.

TERMS & CONDITIONS and RETAINED RIGHTS

General

1. Authors whose work was performed under a grant from a funding agency are free to fulfill any deposit mandates from that funding agency.

Author Online Use of Open Access Articles

2. Personal Servers. Authors, their employers and/or their funding agencies shall have the right to post the final, published version of IEEE-copyrighted articles on their own personal servers or the servers of their institutions or employers without permission from IEEE, provided that the posted version includes a prominently displayed IEEE copyright notice and, when published, a full citation to the original IEEE publication, including the article's Digital Object Identifier (DOI).

3. Classroom or Internal Training Use. An author is expressly permitted to post any portion of the final, published version of his/her own IEEE-copyrighted articles on the author's personal web site or the servers of the author's institution or company in connection with the author's teaching, training, or work responsibilities, provided that the appropriate copyright, credit, and reuse notices appear prominently with the posted material. Examples of permitted uses are lecture materials, course packs, e-reserves, conference presentations, or in-house training courses.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

Author Responsibilities: The IEEE distributes its technical publications throughout the world and wants to ensure that the material submitted to its publications is properly available to the readership of those publications. Authors must ensure that their Work meets the requirements as stated in section 8.2.1 of the IEEE PSPB Operations Manual, including provisions covering originality, authorship, author responsibilities and author misconduct. More information on IEEE's publishing policies may be found at http://www.ieee.org/publications_standards/publications/rights/authorrightsresponsibilities.html. Authors are advised especially of IEEE PSPB Operations Manual section 8.2.1.B12: "It is the responsibility of the authors, not the IEEE, to determine whether disclosure of their material requires the prior consent of other parties and, if so, to obtain it." Authors are also advised of IEEE PSPB Operations Manual section 8.1.1B: "Statements and opinions given in work published by the IEEE are the expression of the authors."

Author/Employer Rights: If you are employed and prepared the Work on a subject within the scope of your employment, the copyright in the Work belongs to your employer as a work-for-hire. In that case, the IEEE assumes that when you sign this Form, you are authorized to do so by your employer and that your employer has consented to the transfer of copyright, to the representation and warranty of publication rights, and to all other terms and conditions of this Form. If such authorization and consent has not been given to you, an authorized representative of your employer should sign this Form as the Author.

IEEE Copyright Ownership: It is the formal policy of the IEEE to own the copyrights to all copyrightable material in its technical publications and to the individual contributions contained therein (except in cases where a Creative Commons or similar license is used), in order to protect the interests of the IEEE, its authors and their employers, and their funding agencies, and, at the same time, to facilitate the appropriate re-use of this material by others. The IEEE distributes its technical publications throughout the world and does so by various means such as hard copy, microfiche, microfilm, and electronic media. It also abstracts and may translate its publications, and articles contained therein, for inclusion in various compendiums, collective works, databases and similar publications.

Authors may, as permitted by standard IEEE copyright policy, post the as-accepted version of the Work on their personal and/or institutional websites. After the expiration of this license, Authors may post the as-published version of the Work on such sites, with the exception of any interactive version developed by IEEE. Authors are not restricted from producing their own, independently derived interactive works.

INFORMATION FOR READERS ON THE USE OF OPEN ACCESS ARTICLES

Reuse: Third-party users may view, print, copy and download the content for personal use or academic purposes. Users may also post links to the published IEEE version of the Work, including the Digital Object Identifier (DOI), for their own non-commercial use. All third-party users must provide complete attribution to both the IEEE publication title and the names of the author(s) of the Work. To copy otherwise, or to distribute/display the Work by third parties, requires the permission of IEEE.

Reserved Rights of IEEE: IEEE reserves the right to limit the production of derivative works and commercial exploitation of the Work for the duration of this license (12 months from the initial posting date in the IEEE Xplore Digital Library). Should a third party seek to make a derivative work based on the Work or commercially exploit the Work during this period they must seek permission from IEEE.

Text and Data Mining/Translation Rights: Non-commercial translations as well as text and data mining of the Work are permitted. However, during the licensing period, should a third party seek to engage in such activity for commercial purposes the express, written permission of IEEE shall be required. Any translation must prominently link to the IEEE published version and prominently display the following: "This is an unofficial translation of an IEEE publication. IEEE has not endorsed the content of this translation."

THIS FORM MUST ACCOMPANY THE SUBMISSION OF THE AUTHOR'S MANUSCRIPT.

Questions about the submission of the form or manuscript must be sent to the publication's editor.
